

Employees

Respect for Human Rights

Casio's strong commitment to human rights is spelled out in the Casio Group Code of Conduct, which is being thoroughly implemented throughout the group.

Respect for human rights

The Casio Group Code of Conduct states that “we will respect all fundamental human rights, and will not engage in any form of discrimination,” and “we will not use or permit any form of child or forced labor.” The Code of Conduct has been disseminated and is well understood throughout the group. In April 2007, Casio issued additional Guidelines to Prevent Sexual Harassment, and established a hotline, and continues to strive to resolve issues and prevent harassment. In fiscal 2010, the company carried out activities to raise the awareness of employees concerning the need to prevent harassment.